01 PROFILE

I'm a dedicated Web Developer and a 4th-year Software Engineering student, passionate about leveraging the latest technologies to make a positive impact on the world. I specialize in crafting seamless, responsive, and user-friendly applications, combining modern front-end frameworks like React with the power of Tailwind CSS and Material UI for sleek, intuitive designs.

My journey includes working with Firebase for robust authentication and backend solutions, integrating APIs like Spotify for creative music generation, and utilizing AI tools such as Copilot for intelligent, dynamic user experiences. Each project I take on is an opportunity to push boundaries, learn something new, and deliver innovative solutions.

I thrive on solving complex problems and collaborating with others to bring ambitious ideas to life. My ultimate goal is to contribute to a tech-driven future that improves lives, inspires creativity, and bridges gaps. With a strong foundation in web development and a hunger for learning, I'm excited to be part of shaping the ever-evolving tech landscape.
